To have the best results REMEMBER, the oven should not be too hot, and it is not necessary to hurry the dough into the oven.

THAT OLD HAND ENGINE

It Will Be Presented to the Volunteer Firemen Tonight.

LETTER OF DR. AND MRS. THROOP

They Assign Their Interest in the Old Machine to the Firemen's Association—Presentation Speech Will Be Made by Robert Reeves and the Engine Will Be Accepted by G. W. Roessler for the Association.

The memory of the late respected Dr. George S. Throop, whose sad death in the prime and vigor of manhood left a gap among Scranton's progressive and honored citizenry, will receive a most fitting testimonial of remembrance this evening upon the occasion of the presentation at Durr's hall on Lackawanna of the old relic, the double-decker Neptune hand pump.

Away back in the "fifties" this old hand engine was purchased by the Neptunes, and its record at the fires in the early days of Scranton looms up most creditably.

Accordingly it was decided to make a trial on Washington avenue and the temple of the First Presbyterian church, then the highest point in the city, was selected.

PURCHASE OF HAND ENGINE

The Neptune company clung tenaciously to their old fire wagon and parted most reluctantly with it. The story of how they let it go is as follows: Last Thanksgiving Day Dr. George S. Throop was visiting on the South Side.

"Doctor, why don't you buy the old Neptune hand engine and make a present of it to the volunteer association?" "Well, I will, if you can buy it," said Dr. Throop and soon after he became the owner of the relic.

The officers of the association are as follows: President, John R. Kime; vice president, Miles Biesacker; financial secretary, A. R. Sturtevant; corresponding secretary, E. W. Zitzlerman; treasurer, F. J. Hickey.

LETTER OF DR. THROOP

To the Volunteer Association of Firemen of the city of Scranton: GENTLEMEN—Having learned with pleasure of late that our son, George S. Throop, had purchased the old Neptune hand engine, as a relic of olden times, for the purpose of presenting it to you, the knowledge of that fact affords a great pleasure in carrying out his purpose.

TOBIN RE-COMMITTED.

Judge Archibald Held Him When New Evidence Was Introduced.

Attorney John Quinnan for the first time acted for a client yesterday, when he argued in chambers before Judge Archibald for the release of John Tobin on a writ of habeas corpus.

Tobin is charged with theft of a number of pairs of shoes which he was caught disposing of. The evidence before the alderman would have hardly been sufficient to hold him, and it is probable that he would have been discharged had not the committee produced new evidence to the effect that Tobin was seen trying to sell a large number of shoes in Devan's Center street saloon.

THE MYSERIOUS THAT PARTY

Referred, to by the Postmaster, but Bunched with Many Others Afterward—Positively No New Developments Since the Hunt for the Stamp Thieves Began, Says the Inspector.

Those who have been closely following the hunt for the postoffice robbers expected yesterday that tomorrow would bring out a startling disclosure in connection with the robbers.

The name of a certain employe of the postoffice was often mentioned in whispered conversations, and it was freely asserted that he was under special surveillance. To mention that name in print at this stage of the investigation would be a most unwise thing.

TIGHE WAS DESPERATE

Emptied the Contents of a Five Chamber Revolver Into His Body.

DISCOVERY MADE BY HIS WIFE

Upon Her Return Home She Found Her Husband in a Closet on the Second Floor of Their Home Dying from the Effects of Shots Fired by His Own Hand—An Inquest Held.

The rigid corpse of Thomas Tighe, of 239 Dundaff street, Carbondale, a married man, aged 37 years, with a family of three children, was found by his wife in a stuffy clothes closet in the upstairs of the building in which he lived yesterday afternoon at 2:30.

Tighe was a miner and worked yesterday as usual. He returned from work about 10 o'clock and found none of his family at home. After washing himself he went upstairs and loaded an old five-chamber revolver, went into the narrow closet and emptied the contents of the pistol into his body.

The shots were heard by the people next door, but no attention was paid to the matter. About an hour after Tighe shot himself his wife came home and found him in the closet. Life had not then left his body, but he died in less than fifteen minutes afterward.

TELEPHONE POINTS TO REMEMBER.

Remember that one vigorous ring of your bell drops your number on the switchboard and it remains exposed until the operator can answer you. Continued ringing does not help you.

Remember to ring off when you finish talking. This is important, but unfortunately many forget. If all would ring off the service would be much improved.

Don't try to talk to the operator. If she stops to answer you, a dozen are waiting for service that is retarded by such talking. If you wait anything explained, call chief operator.

If you have a grievance don't hesitate to call the manager. He will treat you courteously and will be glad to help you, but only give the facts in the case—the cold facts.

When the fellow with the patent, self-acting, double-seal, do-away-with-the-bello-girl, telephone system comes around, be kind to him, but when he lowers his voice to tell you of the millions that are in it, tell him you are glad of it, but as to yourself, why you have been reading up on Pointol, and your conscience rebels against anything more wealth.
